Your Passport to Trade

As a client of Euler Hermes UK, you benefit from our international credit opinion service, helping you increase your exports with the right customers.

A simple service with powerful results

We focus on providing you with a simple 'no frills' service – an instant passport to trade with international customers under your Discretionary Limit. Our credit opinion is just that - our opinion - backed up by our wealth of global trade sector, country and buyer knowledge and most importantly our insurance. We can help you avoid the risks of export customers whose financial health may be deteriorating and enable you to focus your sales efforts on quality export prospects.

Up to date global customer intelligence

In today's volatile economic environment you can't afford to take unnecessary risks by relying on out of date financial information. Unlike other information providers, the quality of our information sets us apart. Through our global risk office network we are closer to the risks and have local risk knowledge of both your current and potential export partners; helping you to trade in confidence and expand your markets safely.

Instant access to export opinions

Requesting a credit opinion couldn't be simpler. With over 40 million companies in our database and freshly updated proprietary information, buyer identification is fast, giving you an immediate response on the insured amount up to which you can trade. We can save you time and money on investigating and managing the risks involved in extending trade to export customers.

Enhanced policy terms

By using our opinion to justify trade under your Discretionary Limit you also benefit from enhanced Policy terms – including a higher Insured Percentage than if using opinions obtained from other information agencies. Our credit opinion will always provide you with the maximum possible amount, based on our up to date assessment of the credit risk. We will also tell you if our opinion improves.

Competitive price

Our credit opinions are competitively priced and valid for 12 months. The full country price list is specified in the Credit Intelligence Schedule of Fees.

Easy set up

As a Euler Hermes client you can access the service immediately using EOLIS, our on-line Policy management system. No registration is required.

Contact us

Should you have any queries about our new service please email creditopinions@eulerhermes.com or speak to your usual Euler Hermes contact or broker.
